Credo Update February to May 2010

Sup? Quite a buzz...

Credo has been buzzing with activities but what's most exciting is we've begun to tap into the most effective levers in disseminating creative thinking in education – university lecturers in education. We worked with a very dedicated and eager group of lecturers in history education at the Universitas Negeri Makassar. The Credo team returned from Makassar enthused, encouraged and enriched with oleh-oleh. We are looking forward to returning to Makassar to complete our Lecturer Capacity Upgrade program there. It has indeed been a humbling experience to be with educators who are so open to change and have such hunger to improve their teaching. Our projects with Universitas Negeri Jakarta and Universitas Pendidikan Indonesia continue and we have already amassed much data to analyze can compare the effectiveness of the various formats of our creativity education programs. Finally – congratulations to our training team who will be presenting a total of 5 papers at the 17th International Conference on Learning hosted by the Hong Kong Institute of Education. Well done everyone!

Until next time...
